Essential Skills

With gratitude, my giving healing touch both helps others and provides myself with a lifepath that calls upon my gifts for:

- ▶ connecting effectively and intuitively with people one-on-one
- ▶ setting a safe and caring environment for massage recipients who may then use their courage to express their needs and concerns and to heal and nurture themselves
- ▶ practicing and studying bodywork with inquisitive joy

I also have gratitude for a keen kinesthetic sense, which I developed first as an advanced athlete, then as a growing person, and now further as a healer, father, and active listener.
